HEMPNALL WI

Hempnall WI had a very interesting evening on 4th June at the Mill. Our speaker was Steve Maunder of Norfolk County Council. He gave a very informative talk on SCAM information. This is changing all the time. He also had a lot of leaflets and stickers people could take. Refreshments were served after the business and before the talk and were enjoyed by all.

Our next meeting is on 2nd July and we have John Knowles speaking about the Life of the Estate Garden.

Our August meeting will be a garden party in a member's garden and on September 3rd; Sophie Crabb will talk about making cross stitch kits. She is a Craft shop owner.

Any queries please contact Secretary Cindy Brookes 398521.

The Hempnall Trust

The Hempnall Trust is a charity that was set up to help residents who are in need, hardship or distress and to support the community of Hempnall.

We can provide financial grants to those who need them. The Trust owns the Mill and Bar both of which are used to support the local community through lunch clubs, events and room hire in a listed building.

If you would like to find out more about any area of the Hempnall Trust please look at our website www.hempnalltrust.org.uk or email hempnalltrust@gmail.com

Events hosted by The Mill are updated on the Facebook page www.facebook.com/themillbarhempnall and there is a regular What's On email.

If you would like to be added to the distribution list of events, please email hempnallmillbar@gmail.com

If you'd like to get involved with the Trust, Bar or run your own events please get in touch.

All Profits go back into the Trust to benefit Hempnall residents.

Lunch Club

With regret The Hempnall Trust has taken the difficult decision to cease providing takeaway service on a Wednesday from the end of June 2025.

The reasons behind this decision is the decline in participants, alongside the current financial challenges that The Hempnall Trust, and many charities are facing, which means it is no longer sustainable to continue with this service on a Wednesday.

This is not a decision The Trust has taken lightly.

We would like to thank all volunteers, drivers & takeaway recipients for your support over the last few years.

We confirm that we will be continuing our in-house meals or deliveries on a Thursday.

Thank you all for your understanding and continued support.

Yours faithfully,

Phil Bates, Chair of The Hempnall Trust

Summer 2025 Newsletter

Flood Prevention

It is pleasing to report that the winter passed with no flooding in the village. No doubt this was helped by the Leaky Dam trial project and the additional installation of buffer zones and the planting of a kilometre of hedgerows. Our thanks go to the landowners involved, G H Allen Farms Ltd, the Environment Agency and The Rivers Trust

Commercial and Farm Vehicles

We have received complaints about and observed many incidents of commercial and farm vehicles driving inappropriately through the village. These are large / wide vehicles which often exceed the speed limits (especially the 20mph) and approach narrow corners too fast for the road conditions considering the width of the vehicles.

Residents are encouraged to report commercial drivers who are not driving appropriately to the company concerned. So, where possible, note the date, time, nature of the driving event, company name and if possible reg number, etc. Ask the company to have a word with their drivers accordingly. Most businesses should act positively to this. The more of us that do this, the safer for all.

Thank you, Dog Walkers

Thank you to all of you who use clear up after your dog and use the many dog bins provided. Unfortunately, not everybody seems to care about other people, and we still receive complaints from the public about dog walkers not clearing up after their dogs and not being in control of the pets whilst on footpaths. Please encourage others to all to be considerate to others.

Let's Celebrate...

Why do we like to celebrate? Well why not?

It's a great way to share happiness with friends, to mark a special occasion - or even quietly on one's own at the end of the day to take stock and give thanks for the small things that have been uplifting or fun.

There are just so many opportunities for us to enjoy time with others: from public holidays such as the royal birthdays, seasonal holidays and the great Christian festivals of Christmas and Easter to family events and anniversaries, birthdays, weddings, graduations, new babies and homecomings. Then we have Mothers' Day and Fathers' Day.

We also organise reunions of school class mates or work groups or just a big gathering of friends for the sake of it.

People celebrate in a range of different ways, sometimes with a small collection of close friends or maybe by escaping to a quiet retreat. It is important, too, to recognise the small things each day that have been encouraging even in unlikely circumstances: these will often be personal and apparently commonplace and the celebration will probably be very low key, for instance just a quiet pause on one's own over a cup of tea. Some people are more ambitious and have a bucket list of activities, maybe a balloon trip or jumping out of an aeroplane!

Some events, such as birthdays, come round each year and act as a focus for families to contact a certain person, a father, grandparent or sister or brother. There will probably be a special cake with candles and presents. There might be a party or an outing but some sort of effort will be made for it to be memorable and fitting for the person concerned. These are valuable because they reinforce connections and bring people together even if it has to be by Zoom if they are living in different countries.

Other events such as exceptional anniversaries, silver weddings or a special birthday will only happen once in a lifetime so become more significant and may call for more planning and all the challenges of who to invite. They usually involve a wider circle of significant people as well as the extended family.

Then there are public events when there is a general celebration which can be affecting anyone in the country; such things as a royal birthday with rituals in Horse Guards Parade and marching down the Mall. On these occasions there is a general acknowledgement that it is a special day whether or not one personally is taking part.

There are one-offs such as winning the World Cup in a major sport when a section of the population will be enjoying a day out and maybe a team will drive through London in a double-decker bus.

Each of these occasions provides an opportunity to have fun, with or without friends. They are times when we might exchange memories with strangers, chance acquaintances or close family.

So, the real essence of celebration is not the balloons or the cake, the marching or the waving of flags, but the sharing that goes on between family, friends, acquaintances and strangers.

Churches are often the centre of important events and we also celebrate during our Sunday services with thanks and praise to God, reflected in our readings, prayers and music.... Here is one of the most famous of the Psalms (no 100) which captures that sharing of joy:

Make a joyful noise to the Lord, all the earth.

Serve the Lord with gladness;

come into his presence with singing

Know that the Lord is God.

It is he who made us, and we are his;

we are his people and the sheep of his pasture.

Enter his gates with thanksgiving and his courts with praise.

Give thanks to him; bless his name.

For the Lord is good;

his steadfast love endures forever and his faithfulness to all generations.

Let us in our various ways try to make a joyful noise this summer and not forget to have a mini celebration at the end of each day in recognition of the smallest of triumphs and all that has been uplifting.

~Jill Turner~

Hempnall Group and Brooke Benefice – clergy posts in common

As an update, this is to let everyone know that we are currently re-advertising, nationally, the clergy posts available to be held in common across the Hempnall Group and the Brooke Benefice. One full-time position is available and one half-time on what is called a ‘House for Duty’ basis. The closing date is the end of July. Please pray that suitable candidates will feel called to apply.

Meanwhile our Ministry Team continues to organise weekly Sunday worship in the Group and funerals, weddings and baptisms as needed. If at any time you would like particular support from the Church, please don’t hesitate to contact your Churchwarden or Designated Person (details in each church building or available from Frances in the Group Office).

All good wishes for the summer.

Liam Pilgrim and Jill Turner, Co-Chairs of the Joint Council of the Hempnall Group of Parishes
